

KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

When she joined the Season 7 cast of The Real Housewives of New Jersey, matchmaker Siggy Flicker hit the ground running with confessions about her history with Botox, a recent face-lift and the removal of her breast implants. "Nobody was born perfect," Siggy, 49, says. "Do you know people at my age that look this fabulous?" While there's no doubt Siggy has had her share of work done, the doctors interviewed for this story — none of whom have treated Siggy — are divided on just how "fabulous" the results are. "She still looks beautiful and appears to have addressed the signs of aging well," opines Dr. Kally Papantoniou, an NYC board-certified dermatologist. Dr. Kirk Brandon, a plastic surgeon in Philadelphia, disagrees. "The excessive fillers have given her a more masculine-looking face," he says. Dr. Alexander Rivkin, an L.A. cosmetic surgeon, has one critique: "I think she overdid it a bit filling her nasolabial folds," he says of her smile lines. "But she is a very attractive woman." X

FOREHEAD

While Siggy has admitted to Botox, Dr. Brandon doesn't love the results. "It's lifted the outside of her brows so she looks slightly sterner," he says. Price tag: $900.

NOSE

"Her nose looks smoother now," says Dr. Rivkin, who thinks she's had "non-surgical rhinoplasty." Dr. Rivkin does that procedure with Voluma, at a cost of $2.5K.

LIPS

Siggy's lips are "very plumped, likely from a filler such as Volbella or Juvederm," Dr. Papantoniou says. "I would use less filler, personally." Treatments start at $650 and last six to nine months.

JAWLINE

"She has a more defined jawline and her jowls are much improved," observes Dr. Papantoniou. She suspects a tightening procedure such as Ultherapy, starting at $3K.
